

LEARNING OUTCOME (POLITICAL SCIENCE)

A Bachelor Degree in Political Science will help students understand the theoretical approaches, basic concepts, ideological discourses central to the discipline of Political Science. It will acquaint students to understand the key normative and ethical questions concerning democracy, justice, liberty, equality, rights, power, authority, constitutionalism which are intrinsic to building a fair equitable and just society. The undergraduate programme in Political Science has diverse range of papers dealing with political theory, comparative government and politics, political thought, Indian government and Politics, International Relations and Foreign Policy, Legal literacy, Gender and Politics, Political Economy, Social Movements and Research Methodology.

Students on completion of the bachelor degree in political society shall be able to :

1. Understand the diverse meaning of Politics as well as its location and operation
2. Critically understand and analyse the working of state, government and the various institutions and structures of political system
3. Form and express well articulated opinion about domestic and international politics
4. Undertake participation as active members of civil society
5. Develop critical thinking and form argument about issues of public policy, public administration and suggest alternatives to it
6. Develop competency with basic tools of social science research

A degree in Political Science will equip the students to pursue career in journalism, media civil services, politics and academics